Watauga	Project FIGHT	136 Furman Road, Suite 3 Boone, NC 28607	The Salvation Army in the Carolinas has been fighting for those impacted by human trafficking since 2011 through Project FIGHT, based at our office in Raleigh, NC. Through partnerships and relationships with state and local government, law enforcement, and other agencies, we are able to provide comprehensive case management to survivors of human trafficking. After meeting the immediate needs of human trafficking survivors and helping them to find stable footing, we help connect them to a network of agencies and services including medical, mental health, legal, housing, and other services they may require. All the while, we are walking beside them helping them along the path to restoration, fighting for them every step of the way.	https://www.salvationarmycarolinas.org/charlotte/programs/project-fight
